The company also announces that it resolved the payment of dividends from surplus with the record date of March 31, 2018, at the Board of Directors held on May 11, 2018.

1. Recording of extraordinary loss

(2) Reason

FIELDS regards the enhancement of corporate value as a principal management issue, and its fundamental policy is to pay dividends at an appropriate level that corresponds with profits.

However, due to the rapid changes that have occurred recently in the internal and external business environments, it has decided that seeking to stabilize its financial base from the medium- to long-term perspective and giving priority to securing investment funds for the expansion of profits will contribute to the maximization of general shareholder returns, including future increases in corporate value.

Specifically, we deeply apologize for this downward revision of our year-end dividend forecast for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2018 as shown in the above table. Our annual dividend forecast for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2019 will be calculated in the same manner.

This matter will be on the agenda at the 30th Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders to be held on June 20, 2018.
