Launch of Bisty's New Pachislot Machine "Tomb Raider"

Fields Corporation (Head office: Shibuya-ku, Tokyo; President and CEO: Hidetoshi Yamamoto) announces the nationwide release of the new Bisty Co., Ltd. pachislot machine "Tomb Raider."

The new machine features characters from the Tomb Raider home videogame. Since its launch in 1996, the Tomb Raider series has sold more than 30 million units worldwide. A movie based on the game was released in 2001 and immediately shot to number one at the U.S. box office. A second movie (Tomb Raider 2) was released in 2003.

Lara Croft, the heroine of the series, is an adventurer of unmatched talent and beauty who roams the world in search of hidden treasures. The new pachislot machine recreates the excitement and thrills of her many adventures in a more radical and visually stunning form than ever before. Players can experience for themselves the rush that comes with Lara's exploits, as they confront guardian deities and gather the "treasure stones" that are the key to untold riches.

Featuring battle action that arouses players' most extreme competitive instincts, the new "Tomb Raider" pachislot machine is bound to appeal to fans of the videogame and movies as well as pachislot enthusiasts.

Angelina Jolie, who played Lara Croft in the Tomb Raider films, and baseball star Kazuhiro Kiyohara, 2006 corporate endorser for the Fields Group, will promote the new machine in TV commercials and other advertising.

"Tomb Raider" is scheduled to be available for enjoyment at pachinko halls throughout Japan from October 1.

Sales of this machine have been incorporated into the Fields Corporation business plan for the fiscal year ending March 2007.
