Fields Corporation (Head office: Shibuya-ku, Tokyo; President and CEO: Hidetoshi Yamamoto) announces the nationwide release of Rodeo Co., Ltd.'s new Dokaben pachislot machine (Model name: Dokaben D).

The new machine features characters from the comic series "Dokaben," which was created by Shinji Mizushima and became a very popular series in the magazine Champion from 1972 to 1981. With his uplifting original drawings, the comic series became very popular, not only in print but also in as in TV animations, movies, and video games.

This machine recreates the heated story of members of a high-school baseball team, centering on the regular catcher Taro Yamada (nicknamed Dokaben). Well-known game scenes, including Dokaben's duels with his eternal rivals and the exciting plays of his distinctive team members, are reproduced one after another on an impressive 20-inch Donut-Vision screen. Players can fully enjoy the rapid development of various story lines and exciting matches.

Featuring fiercely contested baseball games on the pachislot machine, the new Dokaben machine will have a wide appeal for fans of the comic series and baseball, as well as pachislot enthusiasts.

Dokaben is scheduled for delivery in mid-December to pachinko halls throughout Japan.

The release of this machine has been incorporated into the Fields Corporation business plan for the fiscal year ending March 2007.
